TRANSFORMATION COACHING

Have you tried countless methods to make changes? New routines, diets, workouts, and mindset tools, only to find the results don't last? Do you long to feel happier, healthier, and more confident within yourself? I offer transformation coaching that goes deeper than surface-level fixes.

With a unique blend of Personal Training, Yoga, and Mindset Coaching, my work bridges physical and emotional well-being.

At the core of my method is self-love as the guiding force for change.

Rather than pushing through force or self-punishment, we cultivate change rooted in self-trust, compassion, and inner alignment.

This is for those who are ready to stop "fixing" themselves and start coming home to themselves. When change begins from love, the results are no longer the destination; they are the natural outcome.

1 free session in a workshop from The Practical Design (see details)

Lot no. 51

- Anyone who enrolls in the full 8-week curriculum (valued at £200) will receive the first two sessions free (a £50 value).

- If the participant does not purchase the full plan, you will still receive the first session of the workshop for free.

About the Business: The Practical Design

We run structured, hands-on workshops for young people aged 9 to 15, built around design thinking, creative problem solving, entrepreneurship and teamwork. Our young innovators work on real challenges, conducting empathy interviews, building prototypes and pitching ideas, exactly as professional designers and entrepreneurs do.

Our workshops directly complement what children are learning in school, particularly in Design and Technology and Computing. We are a new business, but we already have some wonderful reviews from parents whose children are currently enrolled, who tell us their children are returning from sessions more confident, more curious and more capable of tackling problems on their own.

The Home Facial Kit is ideal to pamper yourself:

Indulgent evening bath,

Zoom Facials with your friends and a glass of bubbly,

Mother & Daughter/Son time,

Romantic Facials with your partner!

Or the perfect skin maintenance to fit around your busy life.

These perfect boxes of indulgence were born out of lockdown to provide my clients with some well-deserved, luxurious pampering during the uncertain times. It was incredible for me to hear the precious moments the little kits created.

Now with those days behind us the At Home Facial Kits are now a permanent feature of the Karen Alexandra Beauty and Well-Being Shop. However, with the launch of my bricks and mortar shop in 2023 I wanted to enhance the kits to reflect more of the brands included in my evolving business.
